Membership Classification and Dues

_____ Associate $15.00 Support the activities of MMAS through local annual dues. Associate members are those who belong to the National Audubon Society but have not yet paid local chapter dues.

_____ Active $30.00 Become a fully engaged member of MMAS by paying local annual dues. Active members directly support our programs, events, and conservation efforts.

_____ Student $15.00 Available to students enrolled in a local public or private school, college, or university. An affordable way for young birders and conservationists to get involved.

_____ Contributing $60.00 For members who wish to offer additional support, Contributing Members help sustain the growth of MMAS programs and outreach. Their contributions may fund bird seed for local ranchers, the installation of duck houses, birdhouses, or owl nesting boxes within the community, and provide resources for youth birding clubs and organizations.

_____ Family $45.00 Designed for households that want to participate together. Includes all family members living at the same address.

_____ Sustaining $90.00 Our highest membership level, reserved for those who provide generous support toward long-term conservation, education, and community engagement. Sustaining members make possible key initiatives such as the Purple Martin Initiative, the Muscovy Duck Project, and the Raíces de Laredo Project with the Azteca neighborhood. Their contributions also fund opportunities for local students and MMAS members to attend workshops, conferences, and pursue scholarships.
